JVR Consultants

THE SYMBOL OF SUCCESS

Over the Years, the Indian consulting industry has seen substantial growth, not only in terms of size, but also in terms of the service offerings. In recent years, the demand for specialist consulting services is being immensely sought by customers in India, which has eventually opened the opportunity for a large number of consultants to help businesses with expert knowledge and resources. This fast growth of this sector in India is largely attributable to improved investment activities because of low-cost structure, entry of many big players into the Indian market, relaxation of previous FDI restrictions, and strong capabilities in areas like IT, management, civil engineering, telecommunication, petrochemicals, power and metallurgy. Among the different consultancy firms in the industry, JVR Consultants has emerged as one of the successful consultancy firms in India.

JVR Consultants was formed to shoulder the responsibility of meeting the requirements by working with the service providers, understanding their needs, identifying the required orientations and helping them to make their Customers delighted by providing complete solutions which exceeds their Customer's expectations.

Mr. V. Ramavallabhan, Management & Technical Advisor, JVR Consultants states, "As I told you before, I don't start my dialogue with what I know. Before even I enter into a discussion or meeting a customer, I would like to know their pulse, like their nature of business, their strength, concerned area, purpose of the meeting / call, why I am being called, at the end what would be their expectations from us. Once the meeting is over, providing them a ROI based solution imbibed proposal in a structured manner tailored to their requirements will help in getting success in the first step of our proposal being approved."

Providing World Class Services

JVR Consultants by far provides the best consultancy services in the Indian market. The adoption of best practices data warehousing, knowledge management tools and internet enable JVR Consultants to provide world class services. The authorities of JVR Consultants always talk about the values rather than the prices. They focus more on the ROI. "JVR Consultants has Elite team associations with domain knowledge experts who can support requirements as and when needed", says Mr. Ramavallabhan.

The courses provided by JVR Consultants are designed to enhance the employability of an individual so any college student or any individual from the organisation can take these courses and get prepared for the market needs. "Already ventured into the implementation and execution phase of the all together a different road map that has been designed recently. To sustain and meet the current challenges becoming more and more IT savvy. People can learn at their convenience and get quality certificates. Moreover, the people have a chance to have one to one attention and interaction from me while learning", says Mr. Ramavallabhan.

Additionally, he has YouTube Channel by name JVR Consultants where he uploads many free videos on Management concepts which attracted vast subscribers and viewers in a very short period of time.

Future Plans

Having achieved much success, JVR Consultants is looking forward to continuing on this path in the future also. All the courses are being converted into an E Learning Series. As of now 2 sets of courses are designed. These are already launched and have seen / seeing overwhelming response with a huge number of orders most especially from corporate individuals who are keen on their career growth. "If the organisation has to have sustained growth, it needs to concentrate on Marketing, Diversification, R & D, Identifying and adopting an USP. On the other side I provide career counselling to the individuals who wanted to have growth in their career", concludes Mr. Ramavallabhan. ■

Moving forward.....

Now this has made me realize that my responsibility is getting increased towards maintaining the trust you all have on me.

Hence, I commit myself to serve the society as I am doing all these days.
